Lest she got bored she decided to take a very active role in the NBTA, serving 2 terms as President of District 8(20). Arrangements are entrusted to Fundy Funeral Home, 230 Westmorland Road (646-2424). Terry has asked that we gather together and join in a reminiscence of her life where we tell stories and jokes about her. This Celebration of Life event will be held in the theatre on the second floor of Reversing Falls restaurant from 1:30 to 4:30 pm on February 10, 2019.

CHURCH BULLETIN BLOOPERS

Those wonderful Church Bulletins! Thank God for church ladies (and gentlemen) with computers. Below are a few sentences (with all the BLOOPERS) that actually appeared in church bulletins or were announced in church services:

The Fasting & Prayer Conference includes meals.

The Sermon this morning: Jesus walks on the Water. The Sermon tonight: Searching for Jesus.

Ladies, don't forget the rummage sale. It's a chance to get rid of those things not worth keeping around the house. Bring your husbands.

Remember in prayer the many who are sick of our community. Smile at someone who is hard to love. Say "Hell" to someone who doesn't care much about you.

Don't let worry kill you – let the Church help.

Just like our ancestors, we too will fall out of living memory and be forgotten. It will take a future genealogist to find us again. Make it a good find.

STYMIEST FAMILY UPDATE

Our first publication of "Loggieville on the Miramichi" (First Edition). Second Edition published 1 year later.

It was during this period of time when James and I were working during our spare time as high school students at the Lord Beaverbrook (Newcastle, NB) Library under the mentor-ship of local historian, Dr. Louis Manny, LLD.

Dr. Manny not only taught us librarianship for a public library, but also how to properly Research and Record our Sources when we came across family history materials and documentation. Many times she would send us to the Northumberland County Court House to research records for a book that she was writing on the History of Miramichi, New Brunswick. Here we found a treasure trove of wonderful handwritten, documented land grants, Wills and Probate records, Newspaper scrapbooks, Courthouse Marriages, etc. It was then that Dr. Manny showed us how to record and journal our research. It was during these visits to the Court House and working at the Lord Beaverbrook Library when she suggested we should write a History of our home town, "Loggieville on the Miramichi". After the successful sale of both Loggieville editions, we were convinced that, in time, we should write a history of our family. Both the Fraser's and the Stymiest's have been on the Miramichi for at least seven generations.

The history of the STYMIEST family surname has been an exciting 60-year research venture. Special acknowledgements to my late father, Carlyle (Bud) William Stymiest, (New Brunswick, Canada); his brother, Donald Garfield Stymiest, (Ontario, Canada); and cousin, Barbara Gayle Stymiest, (Ontario, Canada) for their assistance and motivation to complete this pursuit. It was through my father that I learned about my Loyalist heritage and that my 3rd and 4th Great-Grandfathers (4th GG-Benjamin Stymiest, Sr, Bay du Vin, New Brunswick, and 3rd GG-Benjamin Stymiest, Jr, Tabusintac, New Brunswick) were Loyalists who arrived at Parr Town (then Nova Scotia) and later became, Saint John, New Brunswick. My dad also showed me (I was now 16) a few family heirlooms which were to be passed down to me; treasures that I hold so precious today. From those two loyalist ancestors, I have since found 14 others and have proven my direct lineage to 10 of the entire 16 ancestors. It was during my 17th year, that my dad took me to the original Loyalist Land Grants and at the location of my 3rd Great Grandfather, in Tabusintac (Price Settlement), New Brunswick where we found the remnants of the old grist and sawmills as well as a gristmill stone and the old, ballast foundation stones of the original home. Here digging around near the foundations, we found a pewter spoon, an early 19th century awl and adze and several other trinkets.

The notes from Eldon James Stymiest (Tabusintac, New Brunswick, Canada) was my initial inspiration to seek-out the elusive pre-North American STYMIEST surname. After numerous hours researching the archives in Europe, Canada and the United States; 29 Stymiest generations have been ascertained; all of which tell their own story.

Did you know there are over 100+ different STYMIEST surname spellings?

SCHTEINMETSE, SCHTEINMETZE, SHTEINMETZER, STAMATS, STAMATZ, STAMEAST, STEEMANS, STEENIS, STEENMETS, STEENMITS, STEENMUTS, STEIJNMETS, STEIMETS, STEIMIT, STEINMETS, STEINMETSE, STEINMETSEN. The above all connotations of the present-day surname spellings:

STYMIEST-STYMEST-STYMUS

After my retirement, I decided to sit down, go back to those journal notes written as a teenager while working with Dr. Louise Manny and write our own Stymiest family history. It took 5 years to compile and many trips to Archives all over North America and Netherlands to establish my primary sources.

In 2001, "Down by the Old Mill Stream - A Stymiest Chronicle" was published by Trafford Publishing in Victoria, BC (now located in Illinois USA). Since then over 11,000+ books have been sold and a planned revision is in the works for Old Home Week for August 2020 in Tabusintac, Northumberland Co., New Brunswick.

The November 2001 publication had 604 pages written in Seven Parts and eighteen Appendices, a DVD included containing over 10,000 photographs, maps, and family tree documentation. When the book went to publication, there were 41,000+ ancestors and descendants.

The book has been most successful, and its sales, beyond my wildest dreams or expectations. Books were mailed to all over North America, Europe, Asia, South America and Africa. Yes, there are relatives in all 5 continents. What a small world it has become!

It was AFTER the 2001 publication that I began to hear from 100s of other family and connecting family descendants wanting to tell their stories, and to update their family information. Shoe-boxes and large envelopes of information and photos were mailed to me in the hopes that their new information would be included in any subsequent revision of my book.

And finally, DNA testing has also played an important tool as a Finding Aid to locating lost cousins and relatives all over the world. One of my DNA greatest finds was finding my 6th Great-Grandfather, a Dutch Pirate, Turk (by reputation) named (Anthony Jansen Van Salee, (aka Anthony Janszoon) (1607-1676) born to Jans Janszoon and Margarita, a Moorish woman in Spain.

Janszoon is believed to have been captured in 1618 by one of the Moorish states on the 'Barbary Coast' (a term used by Europeans until the 19th century to refer to the coastal regions of what is now Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, and Libya). He "turned Turk" and served as a pirate, known as Admiral Murat Reis, for Moulay Zaydan in the port of Salé (now Morocco). In 1624, Anthony was living in Salé with his father. In 1627 he moved to Algiers with his father and family. It was after this, he removed himself to the New England colonies of North America where he continued to plunder and eventually married my 6th Great-Grandmother Grietje Reyniers (1602-1666) from the Netherlands. Oh my, their story is one to behold!

Today, "Down by the Old Mill Stream- A Stymiest Chronicle" has evolved yet again. In preparation for the Old Home Week in Tabusintac 2020, the manuscript has blossomed into a 10 volumes legacy.

It's almost done!...3 and 1/2 years since the 2015 Stymiest Reunion in New Brunswick, Canada, and my Revisions of "Down By The Old Mill Stream-A Stymiest Chronicle (The Ties That Bind) (Revision 2020) is soon to be ready for publication. 10 Volumes of approximately 1200 pages each with an aggregate total of 12,976 pages.

More information and publicity will be forthcoming for those who wish to have the published DVD, hopefully, to be offered for purchase online by midsummer of 2020. The Original 10 volume manuscript will be donated to the Provincial Archives of New Brunswick in Fredericton, New Brunswick, along with the 52-foot family Tree published in Germany.

JOHN DOYLE (1840 – 1910) FROM DOYLEVILLE, NEW BRUNSWICK TO ROSEVILLE, CALIFORNIA

John Doyle was born in Doyleville, New Brunswick c1840, the son of John Doyle and Bridget Devereaux. His father, John was born in Gowran, county Kilkenny, Ireland c1807 and came to Jacquet River in May 1825 with his brother, Michael. Their brother, Patrick (the author's great great grandfather) was already living close by in Armstrong's Brook. In the early 1860s, John along with his brother, Thomas left Doyleville and made their way to Roseville (then called the Junction), The following is an excerpt from California. 'History of the Roseville Telephone Company'. This book was commissioned by John's grandson, Robert 'Bob' Lawrence Doyle who was then CEO of the telephone company.

In 1860, a 20-year-old farmer named John 'Jack' Doyle came to California via ship around Cape Horn from New Brunswick, Canada. He arrived in search of good land for livestock and farming. Although there is no record of why Jack Doyle decided to make the Junction his home, it didn't take the aggressive, hard-drinking Doyle long to become one of the area's leading businessmen and farmers. It was Doyle who first acquired the acreage along Folsom Road in Roseville that was for decades the family's farm and which became the Roseville Square shopping centre.

'Lucky Jack' Doyle, as he was called, was a shrewd businessman. He took advantage of business cycles in Roseville to acquire property and acreage at bargain-basement prices. One such purchase was completed in 1896 when Doyle bought the bottom floor of the Odd Fellows Building on Pacific Street for $10. The Doyles didn't own the entire building until nearly 50 years later when son W. J. Doyle acquired the second floor, too. Jack Doyle was known for his unswerving belief that the Roseville area would grow and prosper. Jack Doyle's faith in Roseville area paid off in the early 1900s when Roseville grew to become a railroad centre. The population exploded and commerce expanded rapidly. He died in 1910, one year after Roseville was incorporated as a city. Had he lived longer, it's likely Jack Doyle would have been among the founders of the original local telephone company.

John Doyle married in 1874 to Clara Mertes. John and Clara had two children: William John 'Bill' born on 9th September 1875 and Una Beatrice born 15th April 1879. John died on the 13th February 1910. It was William John Doyle who acquired 51% ownership of the telephone enterprise. By 1913 the original group of businessmen had decided to disband – it was at this point that W.J. acquired over 50% of the shares in the company. Although Bill was a major shareholder in the telephone company, he always thought of himself as a farmer. He, his wife and their three sons ran a large ranch. After he died in May 1957, his oldest son, Jack died in August 1958 while on vacation in Humboldt, California. A few years later the last of the Doyle ranch was sold off. The Roseville Telephone Company went from strength to strength with Bob as CEO. William John 'Bill' married in 1916 to Hazel Wright and had five children: William John 'Jack' born May 1918; Robert Lawrence 'Bob' born May 1919; Marjory Barbara born 1926; Thomas Edward born 1929 and Betty May born 1931. Una Beatrice married William Joseph Kaseberg and had one child, a daughter Winnifred.

In the summer of 2017, my husband and I visited Betty Doyle Radford at her daughter's home in Granite Bay, CA. and met some of the descendants of John Doyle and Clara Mertes. It is still a lovely memory of meeting lovely people who were so warm and welcoming.

QUERIES

Quinn Family - I am looking for the ancestors and/or descendants of Patrick Quinn. Patrick was born in Ireland in 1771 and came to New Brunswick in June, 1825 with his wife Mary and sons John, Nicholas and Edward and settled at Little Black River, Glenelg Parish, Northumberland County. I am a great-grandson of Thomas Quinn who was born in Chatham, NB in 1853, one of eleven children of Edward Quinn and Rose Conroy. Thomas Quinn moved to Renovo, PA, USA and married Mary Singer Shelley and had five children, one of which was my maternal grandmother, Genevieve Rose Quinn. I am trying to find where my ancestor Patrick Quinn was born in Ireland, but would be thankful to get any information on any of his descendants.

Blake, Hierlihy, McCrae, Taylor Families

Beginning premises:

The mother is Charlotte Howe Taylor, born (by most sources) in England about 5 Nov 1755, died 25 Apr 1841 at Tabusintac. Alnwick. Northumberland, NB. The father is Captain John Robert Blake, born about 1755 in Scotland, died about Jan 1785 at Newcastle, NB. Capt. Blake was Charlotte's second male consort (and first husband by marriage, after "Pad" Williams died). They were reportedly married about 12 Jun 1776 at Alston Point, Nepisiguit, Halifax County, NS. Issue of the Blake/Taylor marriage included John Blake (Jr.?), 1777-1832, and Robert Charles Blake (1783-1853), and a sister (the subject of this query, see below). After those three children were born, and Capt Blake had died, Charlotte remarried to Wishart, and after he died, she married for the final time to Philip Hierlihy in 1787.

The query: what is the true identity, birth and death dates, and other key facts, of the Blake/Taylor daughter? Was she "Mary Ann" Blake? Or "Polly Blake"? Or "Jane" Blake?

My amateur researches, augmented somewhat by inputs from Don Dixon of Fredericton and PANA records, indicate there were two, and perhaps three, possible ladies who did live in NB. My DNA (via Ancestry) has matched a number of other diverse persons, all of whom have traced their trees (as I have), to Charlotte McRae (born about 1806 in NB), who in Feb. 1816 in Fredericton married John Rediker (born about 1798 at Andover, Carleton, NB), the son of the Revolutionary War veteran of the 2nd Bn, NJ Volunteers, John Rediker (Redecker/Redicker, etc.), who arrived in the fall 1783 fleet from NY.

I have a number of petitions for land grants, and some subsequent land sale/purchase transactions, in NB involving both the elder and younger John Redikers, before younger John and wife Charlotte went up the Aroostook River after 1830 and before 1836 (along with John's sister, Sarah Rediker Burchell, and her husband David) and carved out farms in the old Plymouth Grant/Letter D area that later was near or part of Fort Fairfield. From additional PANA land records, it would appear that Charlotte McRae's father was very likely Duncan McRae (McGraw), who also arrived in NB in 1783, having served in the 42nd Regiment (Black Watch) during the war.

So, I believe that Duncan McRae (McCrea/McCray/McGraw, etc.) was the husband of the Blake/Taylor daughter, named either Mary Ann Blake or Polly Blake or Jane Blake.

Numerous widow's annual petitions for pension or allowances filed between 1848 and 1869 (copies of which I have), while she was living at Chatham, when read together, lay out family facts about "Jane" Blake that indicate to me that she could well be the "real" daughter of Charlotte Howe Taylor and Capt. John Robert Blake, including of course that her husband was Duncan McRae, that he died in NB about 1819 or 1820, that they had 7 children, that Duncan served in the Black Watch (42nd) regiment of Highlanders and was discharged at Paulus Hook on 8 Sep 1783, that Duncan was born in Tarbat Parish, Ross & Cromarty, Scotland, that he settled in Miramichi, Northumberland County, to raise his family, etc., and that "Jane" McRae had only a life interest in Duncan's property in Northumberland County. Then, too, there is the grave headstone for "Jane ... relict of the late Duncan McRae," died at age 88 on 30 Apr 1869, at St. Luke's Methodist Cemetery in Chatham. So, if Jane was 88 on 30 Apr 1869 (which is consistent with the 1861 census of Canada for her), that would put her birth about 1781.

Land transactions in Northumberland show that Duncan McRae (McGraw) and Charlotte Taylor Blake/Hierlihy were neighbors. See, for example, a land grant of property in Tabusintac, involving grants to widow Charlotte (named Hierlihy at such time) in 1810 along with her relatives/children, John Blake, Robert Blake, James William Hierlihy, Philip Hierlihy, and Duncan "McRaw." (6 Dec 1810 Grant # 568 (Vol E, p. 272), at Tabusintac, Northumberland (Microfilm F16304 PANB)). See also another land grant involving John Blake, Charlotte Hierlihy, Philip Hierlihy, Duncan "McCraw," Donald McCraw and Duncan Robertson, Vol. IV, p. 0, Grant #323, Newcastle Parish, Northumberland County, dated 8 May 1798, Microfilm F16301 (PANA Index to NB land grants, RS686).

On the other hand, Sally Armstrong, in her book, The Nine Lives of Charlotte Taylor (Random House, 27 July 2011, 418 pgs, ASIN: B004HW6GPK), as well as the web site, "Charlotte Taylor - Her Life and Times, http://www3.telus.net/charlotte_taylor/, all indicate that Charlotte's daughter by her marriage to Capt. Blake was "Mary Ann" Blake, born about 1778. Thus, the web site http://www3.telus.net/charlotte_taylor/Folder1/Blak_e's%20Time.htm specifically mentions that "Charlotte and Captain Blake had three children together in Black Brook. One of the three, their son Robert Blake, died August 24, 1853 at the age of 71 according to his obituary . . . If this is correct information then Robert was born between August 25, 1781 and August 24, 1782. His siblings were John and Mary Ann (Polly). I do not know their birthdates or who was born first. . . . The March 1785 Petition . . . verified that Charlotte had 4 children and 1 servant living with her . . . Her eldest daughter Elizabeth was around 10 years of age. The Blake children; John Junior, Mary Ann and Robert, were all under seven or eight."

Hence my query: how do we determine the identity of the Blake daughter who married Duncan McRae, and then had a child named Charlotte McRae (born about 1806) who married my second great grandfather (John Rediker, of Andover, Carleton, NB) in 1816? The mystery for me deepens when you also find a lot of family trees listing another Mary Ann Blake (b. 1772 at Reeds Point, St. John County, d. 1856 and buried at Hartland) who married into the Orser family. I find a number of references to a Mary Ann Polly Blake, daughter of Christopher Blake, who first married James Craig. Then, after James Craig disappeared and William Orser was a widower, the widow Mary Ann "Polly" Blake married William Orser and had about six more children. Per my DNA and comparing with DNA matches of other persons with publicly available trees, I am fairly certain that such "Mary Ann Polly Blake" is not my ancestor.

Editor's Note: I have been spending a lot of time at the library this past year doing research and when reviewing old newspapers, I came across this poem. It brought a chuckle; I'm not there yet — but I can relate to a lot of it (so maybe not so funny!)

A Note From One Getting Older

Just a line to say I'm living, That I'm not among the dead Though I'm getting more forgetful And "mixed-up" in my head.

I've got used to my arthritis
To my dentures I'm resigned,
I can manage my bifocals
But, Oh God, how I miss my mind!

For sometimes I can't remember When I stand at the foot of the stairs If I must go up for something
Or if I've just come down from there.
And, before the fridge, so often
My poor mind is filled with doubt;
Have I just put the food away
Or have I come to take some out?

So, if it's my turn to write to you There's no need for getting sore I may think that I have written And don't want to be a bore. So, remember I DO love you And I wish that you were near, But now it's nearly mail time So I must say "Good-bye" dear.

There I stood beside the mail box With a face so very red. Instead of mailing you my letter I had opened it instead!!!
